Report of the School Board

FOR THE

Town School District of Northfield.

The year 1899 has been a very successful one for the schools in Northfield, due to several reasons. 1st the district was very liberal in its appropriation of money, 2nd we have been very fortunate in securing good teachers, most of them of experience while those who have entered upon their first term with us have shown that they are of the material that make good teachers. Again by uniting Pond and Oak Hill, and dispensing with the school on Bay Hill for the fall term, and hiring the pupils taught in the graded school, we have been able to lengthen the school from twenty three weeks to twenty eight. There has also been a hearty co-operation for the most part of the parents and those having the charge of children; this of itself goes a great ways in making a school successful. No teacher, nor can any board of education make a school what it should be unless the parents and guardians stand behind them, and uphold them in their efforts.

There was an unavoidable break at the beginning of the summer term, owing to our supplies not reaching us on time. They were ordered in ample time to have reached us for the first day of school, but by some mistake on the part of shippers or express company, they went astray and did not arrive until some time after the schools began, this of course made it unpleasant for the teachers, and harrassing to the board.

We have made changes in text books during the year, which we think has been to the advantage of the schools. Maxwell's series of grammars have taken the place of those that have been in use. Baldwin's readers also have been introduced in part, and have given great satisfaction. For supplementary reading we have placed Stories of Great Americans for Little Americans, Stories of American Life and Adventure, and The Story of the Thirteen Colonies, all by that master writer of history, Edward Eggleston. These books have proved a great success, and it would please any one to go into the schools and see with what interest the pupils engage in the work of tracing in their Geographies the travels of the early settlers, as described in these charming stories. We have also introduced Principles of Agriculture, G. Winslow, which has aroused in the pupils, that have taken hold of it, quite an interest in the subject. We consider these books a great improvement over those that have been in use. In fact we find if we would keep teacher and pupil up to the highest interest, we must place new and superior works before them, they soon tire of the old stereotyped lessons and loose interest. A new and up to date book has the same effect upon the interest of a school that new and improved blood has upon the farmer's flock or herd. Progress is the order of the day. We are forging ahead at a great speed, and books that were all right five years ago are today way out of date and far behind the procession.

There is one point that we would especially call to the attention of those having the care of children, and that is constant and regular attendance. No school is what it should and could be if the children are not there regularly, it makes a break all around. Those that are away often get discouraged, as they see the constant pupil forging ahead, and those that are constant are often held back on this very account. We are aware that there are times when it is not prudent for a child to attend school, but our observation is that in a great majority of cases, it would have been better for the child to have gone to school, even if slightly indisposed, than to have stayed at home. It is surprising to see for how trivial an excuse some parents will allow a child to remain away from school. We wish all parents were of the mind of one, who when his boy wanted to know if he could not stay at home and help plant corn, said, "no sir I had rather give five dollars than have you." And lest some should not read the statistics in our report, we wish to repeat here some of the figures there given. In one school we find 527 cases of half day absence, in another 218, another 183, another 182, and so on down. Now parents this ought not so to be. We also find in one school 150 cases of tardiness. Now we are hurting ourselves by making our daily average so small, for by so doing we shall loose in money when the next appropriation is made. Under the new law, the higher daily average we show the more money we get.

We are glad to note the interest taken by friends of the school by the large number of visitors recorded. but wish it was much larger. The only sure way for parents to know what is going on in the school room is for them to visit it and see for themselves.

We are also glad to say that the members of the board have been able to work together harmoniously, there has not been a collision during the year.

And on the whole we congratulate the citizens of Northfield at the close of a very prosperous school year.

Following is a report of the schools in detail:

OLIN T. LOVEJOY,	} School Board of Northfield.
GAWN E. GORRELL,
OTIS C. WYATT,

BAY HILL.

Summer term taught by Miss Jennie A. Shattuck. This was Miss Shattuck's first experience. At the closing examination, the children did well and gave evidence of faithful work on the part of the teacher.

There was no school in the fall, as we found we could send the pupils to the graded school at less expense, and at the same time satisfy the parents.

BEAN HILL.

This school was run only four weeks in the spring. The teacher was Miss Maud L. Fullerton.

Scarlet fever appeared in the school, and it was closed. And as the school was not satisfactory it was thought best not to continue.

The fall and winter terms were both taught by Miss Edith Stevens. This was Miss Stevens' first experience in teaching and the school was a grand success, giving proof that some of our older teachers will have to look out for their laurels. We predict that Miss Stevens will stand near the head in a few years.

CENTER.

Summer term was under the charge of its former teacher Miss Kate H. Sanborn, and was as is usual with her a good school. The pupils made good progress and were a credit to the teacher at the examination.

Fall term was taught by Miss Winnifred Rose. Miss Rose entered into her work with zeal, and labored hard. We were much pleased with her methods of teaching, especially in penmanship. The pupils made remarkable progress, and parents all speak very highly of the school.

Owing to the teacher being taken suddenly and severely sick the night before, there was no public examination.

HODGDON.

Summer term was under the charge of Miss Winnifred Rose. Miss Rose is a teacher of much experience in the schools in Mass., and came to us highly recommended. There was a break in the early part of the term, owing to the appearance of scarlet fever. Such breaks are always a misfortune to a school. But aside from this the term was a profitable one.

The fall term was taught by Miss Ida M. Manuel. Miss Manuel had never taught before, and we think in some schools, and in fact in most schools would make a good teacher. She has a good education and employs excellent methods in teaching. But this is a school where the teacher needs to gain the mastery of the pupils at the start, and maintain it every hour of the term. There was a failure in this, in fact the two factions in this school must make up their minds to be united on a teacher and to concede one to the other before the school can be made what it should be.

OAK HILL.

By earnest request of all the parents in both this and the Pond district, Mrs. Marcia W. Lovejoy was given charge of this school for the year. It is not the policy of this board to hire a teacher that is related to any member of the board, but we did not deem it best to ignore the unanimous request of the parents in both schools. The result of Mrs. Lovejoy's efforts as shown in the examinations of all three terms show conclusively that the parents knew what they wanted.

RAND.

Alice G. Shaw has had charge of this school for the past year, and right well has she maintained her former good reputation. This is the most advanced school in town, and Miss Shaw has pushed the pupils for all they were worth. We were highly pleased at the work done as shown in the examinations.

TEBBETTS.

Both terms taught by Carrie J. Tebbitts. Mrs. Tebbitts has taught this school six terms. We don't know as we can better explain her methods than to quote her. In her register at the close of the summer term she says: "I have endeavored to impart such knowledge and discipline as would help the pupils under my instruction morally and mentally in after life, and I have been pleased to receive the good-will of pupils and the co-operation of parents and others having children under their care, which adds much to the success of my school." That she has succeeded no one will question who has visited the school.

ROLL OF HONOR.

BEAN HILL.

1ST TERM. Carl E. Barnard, Ralph L. Barnard, Nina G. Davis.

2ND TERM. Nina G. Davis.

CENTER.

1ST TEAM. Stella F. Dearborn, Fred S. Dearborn, Arthur W. Dearborn.

B. H. RAND,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
BOARD OF EDUCATION,
Of Union School District, No. 1, in Tilton.

Our schools are maintaining their standard in scholarship, and the work throughout the rooms is fully equal to that done in previous years.

Our teacher of music was given an indefinite leave of absence early in the year. The sickness of a near relative demanded her presence and aid. No special instructor has been put in the place.

At the request of the teachers, the Board endeavored to secure an instructor in drawing, in the place of the one in music, for the remainder of the year. No one was found that was available. It will soon be necessary to give this branch of education the attention that it deserves.

The teacher of the third and fourth grades is away for this winter term on leave of absence. Her place is very ably filled by a substitute.

The truant officer has done efficient work, and nearly every child in the district has been in the school. As we take the census in April and the school year begins with August, the changes of the summer make it difficult to secure the attendance of every child in the district.

The rooms are badly crowded. One room having a normal capacity of 48 pupils, has 73 on the roll. There are two grades in this room, which nearly doubles the work of the teacher. The other rooms are full and in some we have had to place extra desks.

As a health measure we have had the building disinfected each week, and so far have escaped any serious epidemic.

In view of the long anticipated occupancy of a new building we have expended as little as possible for repairs. Some work was necessary to make the furnaces serviceable, and the shut off valve and a short length of pipe in the water connection had to be replaced.

No new apparatus has been purchased during the year.

One hundred and fifty copies of Reed's Words Lessons and four dozen copies of Baldwin's Third Reader have been purchased to replace books that were worn out.

About ten dollars worth of books have been added to the supplementary reading.

Twelve of our pupils have attended the Seminary, three of whom are on the work of the second year.

All who entered in the fall have kept up with the Seminary standard in scholarship and deportment.

Bay Hill district of Northfield has come in this year as tuition pupils, the town district finding it more satisfactory than the maintaining of a separate school for the few pupils residing in the district.

The Supt. of Public Instruction desires that we should take steps towards uniting with some of the surrounding towns, for the purpose of forming a Supervisory District, employing a Superintendent of Schools. If this is done, the state will pay one-half of the salary of the Superintendent. This method is used in other states with excellent results, and will be adopted this coming spring by the more progressive parts of our own state. We believe that our schools can be greatly improved by this plan, and that the result can be brought about with no increase in the present appropriation for school purposes.

Our running expenses have been a little less than last year, but we have had to renew the insurance on the building, and meet the expense of the census and extra school meeting of last May. These items were not anticipated at the last annual meeting.

We note that the citizens are taking more interest in the schools, and that a goodly number of visitors are recorded in some of the rooms. However we feel that the teachers and the Board of Education would be pleased to have more visitors. Come in and see the work of your schools.

We think that the district would come to the annual meetings with a better appreciation of the work and needs of the schools, and that the opinion and position of the Board of Education would be better understood.

We have registered since the opening of the fall term 281 pupils, 29 more than in the whole of last year. They are divided among the rooms as below.

As shown by the above report, the Association has come into possession, during the past year, of $1000 left it by the will of our late fellow-townsmen, Mr. Richard Firth. Through the generosity of his son, Mr. Ray W. Firth, we were able to procure from him two $500 Belknap County Court House Bonds at par, bearing 4 per cent interest and worth $1,070 at their market value.

Respectfully submitted,
